This message originated from outside our district.

Mrs. Conelley,

To be clear, [REDACTED] received the assignment in class on Monday but the kids didn't start it until Tuesday. We emailed both you and Mrs. Trentowski-King repeatedly Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday expressing our concern and desire for [REDACTED] NOT to participate. Mrs. Trentowski-King even gave us an alternative assignment and said she'd give it to [REDACTED] to do during the Jungle Excerpts assignment. All of the emails are date and time stamped so we want it to be clear that Mrs. Trentowski-King completely disregarded our wishes and had [REDACTED] do the assignment anyway. These facts are indisputable.

Here is the book cover that [REDACTED] started in Mrs. T-K's class on Monday, March 22nd. [REDACTED] has social studies from 10:15-11:25.

On another note, is it possible for you to return the recorder that [REDACTED] borrowed from Mrs. Rogers and a book [REDACTED] borrowed from Mrs. Downey titled, Before the Ever After by Jacqueline Woodson?

Let me know if there is anything else you need.

Thank you,

Rae
