Team,

I would hesitate to distribute these standards as a supplemental resource unless we go through a process either through the Diversity Task Force or curriculum and instruction. If we are going to deliver new standards, they should be Board approved. K

Thanks, Kendra. I've looked at these standards before and thought about how wonderful it would be to integrate them with social studies standards, but didn't dwell on it for exactly the reason you just said. I would like to down the road do a PD and show teachers these standards and look for connections to our actual social studies standards, but we can talk about that in the far distant future. Too many other things to do in the here and now.

Hi you two!

I came across this framework, and I love the standards! Thought I would share!
